

I recentley traveled from my home to Detroit on sunday and it was storming what I did not know until i changed my xm station to the weather channel is that I was driving into a tornado I was about 3 to 5 min. behind a mile and a half tornado because of my radio and the service provided by xm I knew what was going on and it was very helpful for someone who generaly listens to nothing but music but because i know the stations on the xm it gave me the info I needed to be aware of the dangers ahead of me. Thanks XM for offering up to date weather for these city's
